SATs

Year 2 have started their SATs this week. These are conducted by the teachers over a period of time and are designed to be as unobtrusive to the children as possible.

Moving on to Year 6—they have their timetabled SATs next week. This will be the first time SATs have taken place since 2019. Your children have worked hard with our staff, and additional staff, to gain as much ground as possible after the disruptions of the last 2 years.

I have spoken to all of Y6 today and I hope that you will reinforce my message with your children. SATs can feel super important and make or break, but they are a snapshot of a moment in time.

What is not measured but that is more important to us as a school community are the character traits your children have shown—resilience, determination, understanding, care, openness and understanding of the world around them. After such a difficult time, in such a changed world I would say all of these are what matters. So children—come in on Monday with your heads held high and do your best. You are already stars in our eyes and so your tests are just a chance to show off all you have learnt during all your time at WPS. Good luck.

We are looking for an external Governor, this time a non-Wibsey parent. Do you work in an organisation that encourages staff to be involved in this kind of work ?

We are particularly looking for finance or data experience. If you have any leads please let me know.

Its time to start gathering together your Union Flags, red, white and blue as we prepare for our Platinum Jubilee celebrations. More announcements next week.
