Jubilee Week

We are delighted to be taking part in lots of activities next week to celebrate and mark Queen Elizabeth II's Platinum Jubilee. This a significant occasion in our country's history (I am dating myself by saying I celebrated the Queen's Silver Jubilee when I was a very, very young child).

We want all our children to enjoy the celebrations.

A letter will be out today highlighting some of the activities your children will be taking part in but I want to highlight one in particular.

Next Friday is our Red, White and Blue day and so it would be lovely to see all our children dressed for the occasion. Please feel free to drape them in flags or bunting—it is going to be a special day. Next week's newsletter will be a picture special.

As well as having a special lunch and treat tea on Friday next week, we are also holding an end of term Italian lunch for your children on Thursday. This will be a pasta and pizza lunch , with pancakes and ice cream and will be provided FREE TO EVERY CHILD as a thank you and well done from all of us at Wibsey. Your children have worked hard at settling back into some normality and have had a lot of work to do on their catch up programmes. They are stars.

I am currently receiving an increased amount of holiday requests for our children. I am sorry to say that most cannot be authorised. Even so—please put the request forms in. It means we know where your children are and we don't need to spend a lot of valuable time chasing absences up and even having to send out welfare teams to your homes.
Thanks.
