Happy Half Term

School closes today for the half term holiday. It always feels like the longest half term, where we have finished the joys of Christmas in December and we come back to the gloomy mornings and long dark nights of January.

I have noticed the morning arriving a little sooner and the days lasting a little longer as we have moved into February and am looking forward to the next half term ahead.

We will have lots to do, more visits to go on, and visitors coming into school.

I would like to thank all of you for your support over the half term.

Attendance, after all the bugs that have been around in the community, has started to lift again. If for any reason your child is going to be absent then please ring the school office from 8.00am, and preferably before 8.30am, where this will be noted and then you will not receive a call from school or a home visit chasing the absence up.

I will see you all in a week.

Mr Cooper

Well done to class 3:1
who have had the best attendance
over this past half
term.
Keep it up.

Late Patrol

Mr Harvey will now be working at the front gates to school every morning from 8.55am. Parents who arrive after this time will still have to accompany their children into the Main Office area to sign them in, but Mr Harvey may want to catch you to discuss reasons and offer support strategies—particularly if it has happened on more than one occasion.
